GLEE CLUB members sing during their Christmas Carol program last Sunday in the Gymnasium.

Singers Busy With Carol Program And Radio Shows

A Christmas Carol program on Sunday, December 12, highlighted a busy month of activity for the college Glee Club. Under the direction of Mr. Felice Iula, Director of Music, the choristers rendered the traditional season hymns to an audience of 500 persons in the Evergreen Gymnasium.

Albert G. Fitzgerald, President of the club, sang a tenor solo during the program, which featured Mr. John H. Eltermann's playing on the Hammond organ.

Repeat performance of the carol program was given at Saint Mary's Catholic Church, Annapolis, on Tuesday, December 14. William A. Yannuzzi provided the musical accompaniment.

Fitzgerald announced that the club performed on two radio broadcasts during November. The singers were heard on November 21 and November 28 over Station WBAL in programs sponsored by the Catholic Information Center.

Mr. Iula announced that the club has been asked to perform at several functions during and immediately following the Christmas vacation, but due to the already filled schedule, he has been forced to refuse.

Debaters Lose Two Contests

Initial action by the Robert Bellarmine Debating Society found the group dropping a pair of debates to Hampden-Sydney College of Virginia on December 11. Loyola used two teams, one affirmative and one negative, on the national collegiate question on Federal Aid to Education.

Loyola speakers were Joseph Reiter and Robert Nayden on the affirmative and Albert Morales and Harry Shock on the negative.

Mr. James Perrott, Faculty Advisor, announced at the club's weekly meeting that the society will give a debate at the North Baltimore Kiwanis Club on January 13.

Council, Alumni Association Establish Placement Bureau For Student Body

A placement bureau for the benefit of students graduating from Loyola College has been established by the Student Council which will be aided by the Alumni Association. The bureau, which will serve as an aid to all students in obtaining positions in the business world following graduation, has already begun work with members of the February 1949 class.

Mr. E. Clinton Bamberger, Sr., has been appointed Chairman of the Students' Aid Committee of the Alumni, while William E. Schulz will serve in the capacity of Student Chairman.

Sheets Distributed

The program calls for members of the placement staff to investigate the qualifications of each student, and assist him in permanent employment after college or in part-time work while he is a student.

Mimeographed sheets which each student will fill out will serve as a means of preliminary contact. The sheets include questions on college activities and honors, working experience and preference as to type of employment. Members of the February class have been given their forms, Austin L. Byrd distributing them among the Catholic students at Manresa last week and Sidney L. Shapero contacting the non-Catholic men.

Talks Will Be Given

By learning the abilities of each student, the placement staff can inform prospective employers of his merits. Another phase of the program includes various talks by alumni.

The service, originally outlined by E. Clinton Bamberger, President of the Student Council, in his pre-election platform last spring, is also expected to help give undecided students a desire for a definite field of endeavor.

Holiday, Exam Dates Listed

Resumption of classes following the Christmas holidays, which begin following the last class today, is scheduled for January 4, the Office of the Dean reminds the student body.

Semester examinations, the schedule for which will appear on the bulletin boards in early January, will begin on Monday, January 17 and extend through Friday, January 21.

The period between January 21 and February 1 is an official holiday for those who are not required to take condition examinations. The third quarter begins on February 1.

Minnesota Lecturer Closes General Education Institute

"General Education at Minnesota," was the topic of the concluding lecture of the Institute of General Education on Sunday, December 12 in the Loyola College Library at 4 p. m.

The Rev. John E. Wise, S. J., Dean of the Evening School and Adult Education and Director of the Institute, invited Russell M. Cooper, Ph.D., Assistant Dean of the College of Science, Literature and Arts at the University of Minnesota to speak.

Participation Urged

Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, Jr., Superintendent of Schools in Maryland, scheduled to be chairman at Dr. Cooper's lecture on Sunday, was unable to attend. Fr. Wise introduced Dr. Cooper. Audience participation was invited, and a discussion period followed the lecture.

The lecture was the third in the series begun on November 21. Dr. John S. Brubacher, Professor of History and Philosophy of Education at Yale University, gave the first talk on "Liberal and General Education."

Education At Georgetown

The Rev. Edward B. Bunn, S. J., former President of Loyola College and presently Prefect of Studies of the Maryland Province and the Regent of the Georgetown Dental School, spoke on December 5 on "General Education at Georgetown."

In his speech, Fr. Bunn outlined the purpose of the Ratio Studiorum, the educational system of the Society of Jesus.

Rector's Christmas Message

Dear Students and Alumni:

Over nineteen and a half centuries ago a great event took place on this earth of ours; our earth has never been the same since, nor will it ever be. That event, of course, was the first Christmas. But Christmas did not happen just once; thanks to the merciful love of God, it happens every year, and every year we need Christmas just that much more. We need the light, the courage, the peace, the joy that were Christ's first Christmas gift to the world. Every Christmas, this Christmas, He is offering these priceless gifts to the men of good will who kneel with the angels at His crib and offer Him their hearts—whether they be the hearts of shepherds or kings.

This then will be my fervent wish for all of you as I offer my three Christmas Masses in honor of the Son of God Who for love of us became on that sacred night one of us.

President of Loyola College

Sodality Union Christmas Party Set For Next Week

The annual Christmas Party sponsored by the Sodality Union of Baltimore will be held on Thursday evening, December 23, at 7:30 p. m. at the Saint Elizabeth's Colored Orphanage on Ellerslie Avenue.

Member colleges throughout the Baltimore area have planned a gigantic program for the 90 orphans who will attend. Loyola, Notre Dame of Maryland, Mount Saint Agnes and Goucher College have been assigned specific duties for the party.

Entertainment Planned

Entertainment will be supplied by Bill Mullikin, Mr. Felice Iula and the Glee Club in a twenty minute medley of Christmas songs, and other acts. The climax of the night for the children will come when Frank Gallagher will make his appearance as Santa Claus and distribute presents.

The task of buying and wrapping the many gifts has been assigned to the Notre Dame Sodality. The Carroll Club of Goucher will furnish the candy, and cake and ice cream will be supplied by the Mount Saint Agnes group.

Dance On February 18

The party, given by the Sodality Union each Christmas, is supported by an annual dance held to raise funds. Plans for the 1949 dance have been announced, with February 18 the date. Money raised at this affair will be used for next year's party.

Prom Success, Says Mooney

With 200 couples attending and dancing to the music of Carl Hamilton, the Junior Prom of the class of July 1949 was both a social and financial success.

The Alcazar, with men in armor and pennants, served as the court of chivalry as the "knights of wisdom" and their ladies fair danced by. The medieval theme, the winning motif in the class contest, was submitted by Edward A. North, whose partner, Miss Mary Dausen, was Prom Queen.

Lawrence R. Mooney, General Chairman, announced that the class supported the dance well enough for the treasury to be increased by a few dollars.

Post Office Requests Loyola Students Honor Regulations

by Frank Gallagher

Assorted Trivia

An unconfirmed dispatch has it that Carmody, Stephens and Schaub have enrolled in a dance teacher's course in downtown Baltimore. After two weeks instruction, they will be given degrees and will be paid five dollars an hour to teach the dance to up-and-coming debutantes, dance hall aspirants, Goucher girls, and tired old women who want to get a thrill out of life before they cash in their chips. They'll probably get it too.

The Post Office Department has asked that we bring the following regulations to the attention of the boys working the mails during the holidays:

1. It is unlawful to open other people's mail.
2. The same holds for packages.
3. Packages marked "Fragile" are not to be batted around like a football. They are to be given the same consideration as packages marked "Bricks" or "Pig Iron."
4. There is to be no napping during working hours. (This may be modified to suit the individual case.)
5. Those who drive the mail trucks must make a special effort to avoid running down pedestrians who own war bonds and government stocks and bonds. Trucks may not be used for dating or carrying your girl friends' Christmas gifts to the members of her family.
6. Do Good and Avoid Evil.

Hopkins vs. Goucher

With muted trumpets and sad glances, we note that Hopkins men have been ruffled by the unkind things that Goucher girls have been saying about them. They are hurt because some girls won't take off their gloves when holding hands with them in the movies.

They should take notice of the manner a Loyola man is treated by his appreciative date. A girl feels honored when a Loyola man takes his glove off to hold her hand. She knows that life can bestow no more delectable perfection, no higher honor, no more thrilling benefit, no more spine-tingling enjoyment, no more ———. (Please fill in the blank yourself. I may have missed something.)

Take heart, Hopkins men. Goucher girls are not the only pebbles on the beach. They may be the roughest, the sharpest, the largest but—there are other boulders and other's bolder.

Thespian Group Goes Afield

The Loyola Mask & Rapier Dramatic Society has seven of its members afield during December.

Four of the seven, Robert Custer, Larry Davis, Emerson Clarke, and Cy Keller, were viewed in the Mt. St. Agnes production of "Years Ago" last Friday and Sunday, December 10 and 12.

On December 18, over Station WCAO, the Bard Avon School presents "Peace, I Give Unto You," a Christmas play, which has Custer and Bob DeLisle in supporting roles.

Besides his numerous personal and television shows, Loyola's William Mullikin will appear in the Children's Experimental Theatre's offering of "A Christmas Carol" on December 16-20. Also in the show are Custer and Jerry Kimmitt.

Cy Keller played a television broadcast December 7, doing his expert mystifying magic for the Children's program directed by Terrence E. Burke, '48.

And lastly, most of the Loyola Nite acts will be presented to the Orphans of Baltimore in a pre-Christmas show on December 23.

Radio Amateurs Meet; Plan Theory, Code Classes

The first official meeting of the newly formed Radio Club at Loyola was held on December 2 in Room 200S. Nearly 20 students attended to hear the outline of club activities given by Edwin Watson, founder of the group.

An informal talk was given on FCC regulations and amateur licenses. Since only three of the dozen who signed up have had Morse Code experience, primary requisite for "ham" licenses, daily code classes have been organized.

Code By Machine

Held daily from 3:30-5:30, the group first studies the Morse alphabet and then listens to it on a special tape machine. The tape automatically sends code at any speed desired from two to forty words per minute. Basic theory will be taught club members as their code speed builds up.

When the speed of 13 wpm has been reached, the student is eligible for the Amateur examination which requires a basic knowledge of theory and this sending and receiving speed.

Many Contacts

The station, with its newly erected horizontal dipole antenna, has been on the air lately on 20 meters contacting "hams" in and around the Baltimore area. Among those "worked" was W3KBF, Brother Marcellus, C. F. X., of Mt. St. Joseph's High School.

Several members of the group are converting war surplus transceivers for use on the soon to be opened "citizens band" at 460 megacycles.

John Schuster has been named General Chairman of the Junior Prom of the Class of January 1950. The dance will be held on February 4 at the Sheraton-Belvedere. Bill Slade and his orchestra will provide the music for the occasion.

Edward J. McNeal, President of the class, has promised that the favors would "most assuredly be given." The price of invitations, as yet undetermined, will be somewhat higher than those of the last prom since the dance will be limited to 150 couples. There are 125 members in the class.

At present, committees are being set up to handle programs, decorations and other arrangements.

The Critilog

by George Herman

Hades
Theatre Section
Dec. 17, 1948

Dear Herm:

Things are really getting hot down here what with everyone talking about the latest of plays and films that are being thrown into the flames after Baltimore try-outs and B. O. reports from all over the nation.

Make Way For Lucia was panned rather badly by the Baltimore critics, but John Van Druten can't get over the fact that Voice of The Turtle was a hit. He forgets that he has had three flops since then, and if he continues to model his plays after these, than he better throw in the towel and reserve a nice warm spot down here.

Red Gloves were worn well by the time they reached New York, and as the Baltimore acid-throwers prophesied, it was badly received. Barry's Emperor of China is headed your way soon on a non-stop journey from Baltimore to Broadway. Anne of the Thousand Days enjoyed her visit with you, and will probably go straight to the heaven for good plays, New York.

Sealed Verdict received contrary pre-publicity which gave the mistaken idea that it handles the subject of G. I.'s marrying foreign girls, which is untrue. It concerns the trials of a German who is convicted of being a Nazi on circumstantial evidence. The publicity men have been sent to this land of flames and fury.

Annie Get Your Gun is coming to Baltimore in January but whether it will be Mary Martin or La Belle Merman is still unsettled. Reporters here say that Mary is even topping Merman, which is quite an achievement. Chicago held her there for 17 weeks, despite an 8-week contract in national tours.

Alexandre Dumas is very elated down here over the prospect of Three Musketeers being revived in color with a galaxy of stars. Reports from the heaven say that Douglas Fairbanks, Sr., has disappeared and been reincarnated into the body of a mortal—one Gene Kelly. I doubt it.

Well, Boss, we're waiting for you to drop in soon.

Yours,
Screwtape

Davis Looks Forward To End Of Record Ban

by Larry Davis

The year old record ban will soon be ended when the federal government approves the plan worked out by Petrillo and record industry leaders. The plan provides for payments from the record companies into a public music fund to be administered by a trustee. Last spring this column reported that a bill was being proposed in Congress to settle the situation, but like many other bills, it never got past the proposal stage. Since that time, there have been further union-industry discussions with the result of upward revisions in the payments and an agreed no-payment on recordings sold between January 1 and September 30, 1948. (The latter was a hotly disputed point.)

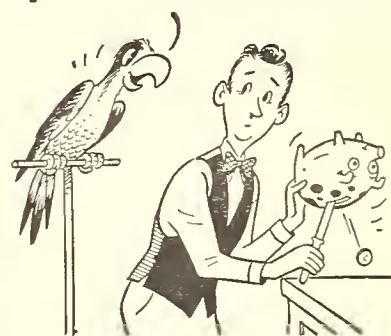

Satires of Lombardo, Kaye, and other "mickey" bands by so-called "hep" bands and vice versa to arouse mirth from dancers have become an established practice.

Faulty Marking

Loyola's marking system is not a good one. The students are suffering—especially those who plan to do graduate study. It is time that the school authorities act to protect the students who are "victimized" by instructors who as a matter of policy do not give marks over 90%.

We are all aware of the policy pursued by certain teachers of marking tests and giving quarter marks which are inconsistent with marks in the same subjects given students not only by other teachers at Loyola but also those at other schools.

Most of us have had the unhappy experience of studying diligently for a test and receiving 80% or a little more for our efforts. We are acquainted with those who are studying the same subject under a different instructor. We see these students receiving grades which range from 10% to 20% above the averages given us for the same effort by our own instructor. In many cases, they study less than we do. Yet they receive higher grades.

While it can be argued that we are not attending school solely for marks and that what really counts is what we get out of the course, yet there does exist a gaping fallacy. When the officials of graduate schools are considering transcripts they do not take into account that Professor Jones of Loyola never gives anything above an 85% and that consequently an 85% from Professor Jones is just as deserving as a 92% from Professor Smith. When all other things are equal, the student applying for admission to graduate school who

Loyola In The Past

Twenty Years Ago

In the Exchange column we find that a Syracuse professor believes "to cram for an exam is the same thing as to cheat in class."

The Robert Bellarmine Debating Society held its weekly debate with the topic: "Resolved, that the jury system should be abolished."

The George C. Jenkins Debating Society met and debated on the timely question "That co-education is desirable in college."

Father MacFarlane conducted the annual student retreat on December 6, 7, 8. The retreat was held in the college chapel here at Evergreen.

THE GREYHOUND printed the all-time record of "Lefty" Reitz. The record follows: Won 77; Lost 55.

In conference tests the Reitzmen had won 51 and lost 17. They won three championships (conf.) and one tournament title. This record went from 1937-1943, not including 1943.

has the higher marks will be accepted.

We therefore propose that the school authorities request all teachers to adopt a uniform marking policy so that the top mark in any course will at least be in the middle nineties. If the teachers do not care to do so, then we suggest that the Dean's Office make the necessary changes once the marks have been presented.

In any case, action is justified.

A Merry Mess

To most thinking Americans, there is a sickening display of petty politics now in progress in Washington. After months of charges and countercharges, it appears that the United States was actually being betrayed on a large scale by many of her top-ranking officials. The importance of the stolen documents now in government hands is enough to present a clear picture of the dangers involved in treason in high places.

However when our national leaders deny that there is or ever was a serious threat to our national security in Communist spy activities, they insult the intelligence of the American people.

The "red herring" has turned out to be a whale. The warnings of our late Archbishop Curley concerning Communism and those of the Dies Un-American Activities Committee were laughed off once. There is no laughter now. There is but one thought: how far have we been betrayed? We wonder too if our national leaders are going to betray us by refusing to acknowledge that there is a danger.

We can excuse a man for refusing to act when the existence of a danger is not known for certain, but we can see no reason for excusing anyone who will not act when the danger is known.

Henry David Thoreau

This first volume of the new American Men Of Letters Series is a well developed critical study of one of America's great writers. In the introductory chapter the author gives us a single word description of Thoreau—"Simplify." In treating his subject Mr. Krutch has done just this, with well balanced results.

As a major representative of the Transcendentalist group, Thoreau deserves much explanation. He found the New England society, which gave rise to this movement just about a year before his birth in 1817, hard to accept. However, his association with Emerson and

by Joseph Wood Krutch

followers had its effect. The earlier portions of the Journal reveals a struggle after Emersonian profundities, and his first published work, A Week On The Concord And Merrimack Rivers, contains passages of callow mysticism. His love of nature came gradually after education at Harvard and failure as a school master. Emerson offered him his wood lot and field at Walden Pond, and he accepted, reporting "I went to the woods because I wished to live deliberately, to front only the essential facts of life, and see if I could not learn what it had to teach."

Pacing The Pack:

Fans Hamper Play Of Cammarata And Hughes

by Mickey Parr, Sports Editor

It probably is not the wisest thing in the world to start this column with a jab at many of the writer's own schoolmates, but, at the risk of setting up a few temporary enmities, here goes.

There isn't a basketball fan among us who would intentionally hamper the playing ability of one of Lefty Reitz's substitute cagers. The very thought is silly, yet there is a group of Loyolans who unconsciously did hinder Sal Cammarata all last season, and who are headed in the same direction this year.

Whenever Cammarata got into a game during the 1947-48 campaign his appearance was greeted with an unusual amount of whistling and yelling. However, it was of a type that had as much an effect of kidding as it did of boosting Sal.

The result was that it took too long for Cammarata to concentrate on the ball game and settle into the flashy stride of his normal capabilities. During the recent Loyola-La Salle contest he was kidded as being a rough guy because he had fouled one of the opposing players. While Cammarata was trying to keep his mind off this distraction with a good-natured smile, his value to the team was diminished.

You might say that an athlete is expected to put up with the antics of the crowd, and that's very true. But, it is far easier to ignore the cutting jibes of opposition rooters than the fun-provoking exclamations of your own friends.

Ed Hughes, up from last year's B-squad, has already begun to feel the bad effects of the same treatment. He tightens up, and cannot ease himself around the court as he normally would.

These friendly antics prove, without a doubt, that Cammarata and Hughes are two of the most popular basketeers on the Greyhound squad, but beyond that the verbal receptions are of no help. It would be a very good thing if they would be given a break, be received just as sincerely as any other member of the team, and have a chance to put out with some really good basketball. How about it?

Court Team Now On The Upgrade

During the preseason workouts of Loyola's basketball team, the rosy predictions and lavish praises that found their way into print set up high hopes around the Evergreen campus. It didn't take long for gloom to settle over the area, however, when successive losses to a pair of Philadelphia's most potent college quints, Villanova and La Salle, left the Greyhounds with an 0 and 2 log.

It didn't require much time for the team to break up such a sad situation, though, with a severe trouncing of the University of Baltimore and a thrill-packed victory over Maryland's strong hardwood team.

These triumphs proved that much of the cause for the opening losses could be traced to lack of teamwork, and the factor of trying too hard when on the weak side of the score. Only actual game experience could remedy these defects, and the first two tests served that purpose well.

The win over Maryland U. was a terrific shot in the arm for the Green and Grey, and should mark the beginning of a steady rise in Loyola basketball stock.

Of course the biggest single improvement came about in the performance of lanky Bob Anderson. The 25 points dunked in by the Newark boy at the Coliseum last Saturday night took him out of the 'bewildered class' and brought him up to the level expected of him. From now on, Bob can be counted upon to adequately fill the role of a pivot man who can lay 'em in, or pass 'em off, with discretion and skill.

Wrestlers Encounter First Testing Block

Coach Phil Goodman's wrestling team opens its winter mat grind this afternoon against Hopkins, and the former Loyola muscle man is entertaining thoughts of a very successful season.

Wrestling is an unusual sport in that teamwork and individual size can be thrown out the window. Each man competes in his own weight class and, while in action, can depend on help from no one but himself.

Nevertheless, the individual efforts of Jeep Mueller, Carter Beese, Steve Krizan, Mus Bower, Franny Meagher, et al, will add to a team score that will make or break the Loyola record. They are capable of making a good record and Goodman is justified in his optimism.

Greyhounds Edge Terps

by Gerry McCormick

Last Saturday night at the Coliseum a large crowd watched Loyola continue its winning ways against the University of Maryland, when the Greyhounds outthrustled and outscored the Terps, 77-75.

The exciting game ended with a spine-tingling climax as the Green and Grey was called upon to meet a strong, though belated, rally which forced them to freeze the ball. Led by Captain Jim Lacy, they safeguarded their slim lead and gained the well deserved victory.

Anderson High Scorer

Bob Anderson, the game's high scorer with 25 points, enjoyed his best night of the young season as he turned in a flashy performance which justified the many superlatives that have been said of him.

While maintaining his high scoring average with 17 points, Mike Zedalis upset Maryland considerably with his clever faking and dribbling, combined with his usual aggressive game under the backboards.

Lacy Opens Scoring

Jim Lacy scored the first basket of the game on a long set shot, but Maryland quickly retaliated with a score. Neither team took a decisive lead in the first half which ended with the Loyola reserves holding on to a 43-36 lead.

As the Greyhounds pulled away in the second half, the floor play of Andy O'Donnell and the defensive ability of Bill Johnson gave Loyola an apparently sufficient lead.

It required a hard fight, however, to prevent the Terps from running right over that lead before the game was over.

Wildcats Win Easily, 71-54

by Vince Bagli

The Villanova Wildcats struck with sudden fury and then outraced Loyola to record a 71-54 triumph Wednesday night, December 1, at Philadelphia.

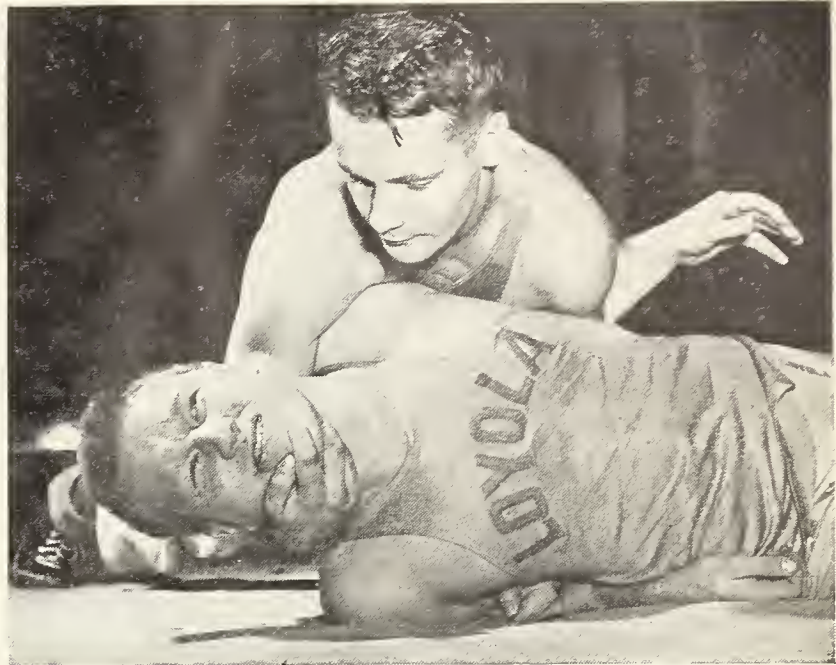

After the Greyhounds relinquished a 4-2 lead, the 'Cats took command and were never headed as their lead fluctuated between 6 and 16 points.

Joe Hannon dropped in a lay-up to start things off for the Wildcats, but then Bob Anderson hit with a set and tap-in to put Loyola temporarily ahead. This lead was short-lived, however, as big Paul Arizen and Brooks Ricca began to control both offensive and defensive rebounds.

Villanova jumped their advantage to 15-4 before Andy O'Donnell looped in a push shot. The pattern of the first half changed considerably at this point as Loyola matched the sharp-eyed Philadelphians point for point, and left the floor faced with a 34-24 deficit.

The Greyhounds bounced back after the intermission period and closed the gap to 42-36. The 'Cats took time out, Loyola cooled off, and Mus Bower and Carter Beese, Loyola wrestlers, get in shape for the 1948-49 season.

Wrestlers Open Season Today Against Hopkins

After five weeks of practice, the Loyola wrestling team is ready to pry the lid off the current mat season this afternoon. Johns Hopkins' champion grapplers visit Evergreen for a meet scheduled to begin at 3:30.

This year's edition of the Greyhound wrestling squad should prove a strong contender for Mason-Dixon honors. Five lettermen from last year's team, which finished in the runner-up spot in the M-D tournament, are back for the coming campaign. Coach Phil Goodman, Loyola mentor, is justified in being a bit optimistic for he has three boys who are individual conference champions.

Mueller Returns

A newcomer to the mat wars last year, heavyweight Carroll "Jeep" Mueller, who climaxed a spectacular season by capturing the M-D title, will be out to continue his winning ways.

Carter Beese, king of the conference 175 pounders, again will see action in this division. He is considered the most talented wrestler on the squad.

Moving down to the 145-pound class, we find another M-D champ—Steve Krizan, who is exceptionally good for his size.

Bower Was Tournament Finalist

In the 155-pound class, Francis "Mus" Bower, who was a tournament finalist last year, returns to carry his share of the load. Bob Weiss will again represent the Greyhounds when the 121-pounders answer the bell. Franny Meagher, conference champ in 1946, is back to take his turn in the 165-pound group. John Agee will probably take to the mat at 136 pounds. Ted Haupt will likely come out in the 128-pound class.

The Blue Jays from "lower Charles St." again present a powerful aggregation. Three of the returning lettermen now compete in different weight classes. Harry Tighe, 128-pound titleholder, will now grip with 136-pound opponents.

After three years as a 175-pounder, Francis Brown moves down to the 165-pound division. Walt Lapinski, having lost in the tournament finals last year to Jeep Mueller, will now see service in 175-pound competition.

Foust Paces La Salle Cagers With 29 Points

Paced by Larry Foust, 6' 9" center, the La Salle Explorers of Philadelphia scored a 78-57 victory over the Greyhounds on the Evergreen court last Monday. Although Loyola played a good brand of ball throughout the game, there was no stopping La Salle when Foust, who scored 29 points on 12 field goals and 5 charity tosses, was in action.

For Loyola, it was once again the scoring duet of Jim Lacy and Mike Zedalis who captured scoring honors. Zedalis led the team with 19 points, followed by Lacy with 12. Andy O'Donnell and Bill Johnson, each collected 8.

Lead Changes Hands

The first half was a nip and tuck affair in which the score was either tied, or the lead changed hands, many times. At the five minute mark, La Salle held a 10-6 lead but the Greyhounds came back to tie the score at 10-all on two quick baskets by O'Donnell. Zedalis and Foust then traded baskets to raise the score to 12-12.

For the next five minutes or so there seemed to be an upset in the making when Loyola rushed off to a 24-14 lead as Lacy and Zedalis clicked for points, and the La Salle attack bogged down.

Explorers Close Gap

After taking time out, the Explorers, with Joe Greenberg and Dick Adair doing the scoring, closed the gap and then went out in front 28-27. Once again Loyola took the lead at 29-28 on Herb Meinert's set shot. This was the last time the Green and Grey were out in front, although they did tie the score at 36-36.

Playing against the Greyhounds' second team, the Philadelphians closed the first half with three quick baskets to mount the score to 42-36.

Early in the second half it became apparent that Loyola could not keep pace with Foust and Company as La Salle gradually increased its lead. With about six minutes remaining in the game Lefty Reitz once again put in his reserves that they might gain actual playing experience.

These two teams meet again on January 11, in Philadelphia.

Loyola Tests Detroit Here

by Bob Roesner

On December 22, Loyola College rooters will get a look at the Mid-Western style of basketball as the Greyhounds take on the Cardinal and White Titans of Detroit University. This first meeting between the two schools will take place at the Evergreen Gym at 8:45 p. m.

Leading the Motor City quintet to Baltimore will be its new coach, Bob Calahan. Bob, who is beginning his first year as head man of the Detroit cagers, is said to have been the top performer ever to play for the Cardinal and White, making All-American in 1938-39, and again in 1939-40. He scored 795 points in three years for the Titans.

Veterans Bolster Squad

From last year's starting five, the Cardinal and White has co-captain Warren Hintz, a center well over six feet, who is a good shot, both off the pivot and from outside. The Titans' two best marksmen are Brendan McNamara and Cal Grady, both returning monogram winners. Rounding out the initial five will be co-captain Bill Ward and Charley Kennen, both stalwarts on defense.

After the Detroit game, Coach Lefty Reitz will lead his Green and Grey squad to Albany, N. Y., where Siena College will be met on December 30. The Green and Gold is a newcomer to the Loyola schedule, and from the looks of pregame information, should prove to be a tough opponent.

Siena Has Impressive Record

Siena last year enjoyed the best season in its history, winning 22 and losing 6. They were tops in defense play here in the East, but were beaten out by Manhattan who represented their area in the NCAA Tournament in Kansas City.

With nine lettermen returning from the Green and Gold team of last year, Loyola will have to be at its best to top Siena.

Greyhounds Trounce Bees In One-Sided 66-42 Game

Loyola's Greyhounds romped to an easy 66-42 basketball conquest of the University of Baltimore at Evergreen last Thursday night. The strength of the Green and Grey starting five, coupled with reserve depth, doomed the Charles Street quintet from the start, as the Greyhounds recorded their first Mason-Dixon Conference win of the season.

Bees Hold Brief Lead

Baltimore U. enjoyed a brief lead at the outset of the contest by virtue of Len Glushakow's long set shot; but a brace of baskets by Loyola's Jim Lacy erased that advantage and put the Greyhounds ahead 4-2. The Bees came back strong a few minutes later, however, to knot the score at 7-all. As it turned out, this was the closest that Frank Skaff's squad came to making a game of it. Lacy's deadly shooting, together with the pivot play of Bob Anderson, combined to give Loyola a 37-21 halftime superiority.

During the second half, the Greyhound substitutes kept things interesting, and with Meinert, Gallagher and Barrett finding the range for the Green and Grey, a 20 point lead was maintained for the rest of the contest.

Loyola Attack Clicks

Especially encouraging for the Loyola cause was the smooth functioning of a fast break which, on several occasions, caught the Baltimore U. defense napping. The final score could have been considerably higher, had Coach Lefty Reitz elected to keep the first string in the game.

Ed Phelps led the Bees in scoring with 17 points, while Bob Anderson with 15, and Jim Lacy with 13, led the Loyola scoring column.

Freshmen, Veteran B - Squad Face Rigorous Cage Schedule

by Andy O'Donnell

The Loyola B Squad basketballers, one of the top teams in last year's race for the Mason-Dixon "B" squad league championship, promise to be a threat for honors once again this year.

If practice and determination can be considered as indications of future successes the Greyhound B squad, under the capable tutelage of Coach Emil Reitz, should post an enviable record.

Veteran Team

The squad, composed of 13 players, 8 of them veterans of last year's skirmishes, has all the makings of a top team. With Rip Roberts and Jack Hoyle alternating at the pivot post, Whitey Welsh, Jack Whalen and Arnie Reese taking turns at the guard positions, and the forward wall being held by Tom Lind, Jim Setelik and Larry Brockmeyer, Coach Reitz floors a seasoned aggregation.

Chick Ahearn, Frank Kimmel, Jack Schanberger, Bill McDermott and Norm Molz, all newcomers to the Green and Grey, are by no means resigned to the roll of substitutes and are giving last year's veterans a battle for starting positions.

15 Game Schedule

Playing a 15 game schedule, which consists of such teams as Mt. St. Mary's J. V.'s, American University's B squad and Catholic University's junior dribblers, the B squad has a difficult road to pave along the hardwood trail.

Boasting a .500 percentage thus far, the Loyola Freshman team is gradually developing into a top-flight outfit. Dropping their opening fray to Villanova, the "pups" came back home to defeat a highly touted St. Augustine outfit by the score of 50 to 41.

Scoring Punch Abounds

Led by diminutive Red Schneider, former Poly star, and with Ronnie Johnson and Frank Lastner filling in the forward positions, the Frosh have plenty of scoring punch. Lee Bardelman has proven to be the defensive mainstay and constantly discourages opposing high scorers. Ben Cook, towering pivot man, rounds out the tentative first team. Ben, in his first year of organized ball, looks like a sure bet as a future Loyola great. Packing sufficient weight on a 6' 7" frame, Ben is a continual nemesis to all enemy rebound men.

Fred Furst, reserve forward, looks good. The tall southpaw possesses an uncanny eye and is improving with every game.

Optimistic Future

Darrell, Epple, Flock, Lottie, Vacek, McCormick and Wright round out the rest of the squad. Seeing limited action in the past two games these hoopsters give their coach, Mr. Reitz, good reason to look to the future with a touch of optimism.

Playing a schedule which is dotted by such teams as Loyola High School, Calvert Hall, St. Paul's, St. Joe and Towson Catholic, the "Pups" have their work cut out for them.

Mueller Says Natators Set

The Loyola Swimming team won the Mason-Dixon Conference title last year and Coach Franny Mueller opines that his team will again be reaching for the goal this season.

This year's schedule opens in a non-conference meet with Dickinson College, on January 8, in the Alumni Gymnasium pool. Then Franny Mueller's boys will travel to Washington, D. C., and challenge American U. for the first Conference meet on January 14.

La Salle College will enter the Greyhound Campus on January 22, giving Baltimoreans the chance to see Joe Verdeur, Olympic and National breast-stroke Champion, in action.

The next three contests shape up as close ones and will all be held away from home. On January 28 Loyola invades Scranton U., which beat the Green and Grey last year by one point, 38-37. This year's meet again promises to be well contested. The team goes to Washington, D. C., (Continued on page 7, col. 2)

Soccer

All-Stars Select Four

With Bish Baker of Loyola as co-coach, the first annual All-Maryland collegiate soccer team was selected by the newly-formed Maryland College Soccer Coaches Association, after tryouts at the University of Maryland on December 4.

Loyola placed two representatives on the first team in center forward Nick Kropfelder and fullback Tommy Lind, mainstays of the Mason-Dixon Conference Champions.

Greyhounds On Second Team

The second team found Loyola with two representatives in Henry Linz at center half and Armando Luzzi at inside left. Both also played a major role in the Greyhounds' conquest for the Mason-Dixon crown.

Lou Fonte was nominated for the original scrimmage along with the aforementioned selectees. The balance of the first team was made up of standouts from Maryland, Navy and Hopkins.

The College All-Stars beat the Baltimore Major League All-Stars 1-0 in a close battle at Clifton Park on December 11. Jim Belt of Maryland scored the only goal of the game for the collegians.

Xavier And Albright Due

On New Year's night, Loyola will usher in the 1949 portion of its current basketball campaign in the role of host to the roaring Lions from Albright, Pennsylvania. The basketeers from the Keystone State are annually rated with the top teams of the East and promise to be a high hurdle for the speedy Evergreen quintet.

Last year the Greyhounds had a busy evening despite the fact that they were on the long end of a 62-53 count. If Loyola rooters remember, it was a well balanced team with plenty of court savvy that offered a strong challenge to the winning ways of Coach Lefty Reitz's potent scoring machine.

The scoring punch of Albright lies in the hands of big Ed Anlian, a prolific point-getter and last year's scoring champion of the Middle Atlantic Conference. Anlian was also the recipient of the Jack Dempsey trophy, awarded each year to the most valuable player in the Reading district.

Starting Five Very Capable

Anyone of the starting five is capable of hitting double figures and the style of play of this upstate outfit is the characteristic razzle-dazzle peculiar to their section of the basketball world.

The Red and White have been bolstered by the return of their regular tutor, Neal Harris. Last season Harris was on leave of absence from Albright in order to organize and coach the Egyptian team in the Olympics. Under the guidance of this mentor the fortunes of the Reading school have been bright indeed, his best effort being a 19 and 1 log in 1945.

Xavier Here From Cincinnati

Continuing with its gigantic schedule, Loyola will face the Musketeers of Xavier University on January 9. This ball club is a stranger to the basketball circles of the East, but its enviable record of 24 and 8, compiled last year, speaks a mouthful. In Kansas City, while competing in the N. A. I. B.

Alumni Bowlers Have Close Race

The October '43 Alumni Bowling team is now in first place; their margin of lead however is relatively narrow. The second place team, January '43, is trailing by only one game, and the '44-'45 team in third place, is only two games behind them.

The October '43 team owes its lead to the consistent bowling of Gay (100.18), Sweeney (95.40), Bitterli (93.87), Sullivan (93.00), Burns (92.56), Fromm (92.50), and Steffy (91.33).

Individual honors go to Fogarty of the '49-'50 squad with an average of 108.83. He is closely followed by his teammate, Linardi, with a 105.67 average. Feeley, January '43, is third with 104.38, McCullum, '47, with 104.03, is fourth, and in fifth place is Donohue, '40, with 103.9.

Loyola undergraduates interested in bowling with the Alumni on Tuesday nights should contact Dr. Edward Kaltenbach during school hours.

The team standings are as follows:

Team	W.	L.
Oct. '43	14	4
Jan. '43	13	5
'44-'45	11	7
'47	10	8

Tournament, the Greyhounds were afforded a preview of what to expect when they watched the Cincinnati lads trounce Connecticut State Teachers, on the very evening that Loyola suffered defeat at the hands of Emporia State (Kansas).

Intramurals Renew Play

The Gym will be overrun with prospective swishers, following the Christmas holidays, as the intramural basketball season begins at Evergreen. Because of the basketball spirit of Loyola College much interest is always shown in this intramural sport.

The games will be played similarly to the recent football league with the round-robin system in individual leagues and the double-loss elimination in the playoffs. The games will be played late in the afternoon. Eight men are allowed on a club and all entry blanks must be turned in by today.

Novelty Proposed

Franny Mueller has come up with another fresh idea in his long line of intramural activities. A foul-shooting tournament, which should be warmly received by the frequent dribblers in the Gym, will be held, if enough participants are received.

The annual bowling and ping-pong tournaments will be held in early February after exams are over.

Individual Points Compiled

Larry Smith, official referee of football intramurals, is compiling the points in the race for individual leadership and the results will be ready by the next edition of THE GREYHOUND.

The Globetrotters, grid champs of this season, had two intercollegiate tilts this week and emerged victorious on both occasions. Both Hopkins and Towson Teachers were subdued by the Trotters. These two games continue an unbeaten skein in intercollegiate intramural tilts for Loyola at 3 straight.

Mimeographed question sheets and activity lists have been distributed to the class staff which will complete all necessary work on the write-ups during the Christmas vacation.

Most Seniors Photographed

Most of the Seniors of the classes of February, '49, May, '49 and July, '49, have already been photographed and the pictures of their choice have been submitted to the photographers. Glossy prints of all Seniors are expected to be received in early January.

The representatives of Merin Studios, who have been photographing the Senior class this year, will return to the school in January to take any Senior pictures still lacking.

Some of the copy of the Fall section of the annual has already been submitted to the printers. This Fall section will include all types of pictures which have been taken by James Lightner, Photography Editor, at all the school functions since the opening of the school year. Calvert Kenning, Business Manager, has announced that the 15% commission on all ads which are obtained by members of the student body is still being offered. He urged all students to take advantage of the offer and help the yearbook at the same time.

Thespians Plan New Production

"Command Decision" will be the next offering of the Mask and Rapier Dramatic Society. The decision was announced by the Rev. Leo G. Monaghan, S. J., Moderator of the Society, after the last meeting on December 13.

A committee of four, Robert Custer, John Murray, Jerry Uhlhorn, and Edward Sellmayer, read plays and made suggestions at the meeting. "Command Decision" was chosen on the basis of interest to audience, all male cast, success on Broadway, settings and the excellence of plot.

While no definite date has been set for production, it is hoped that the play will be produced during the middle of February, and it is also hoped that the Alcazar will be available for the show. There have been tryouts for the parts, but no definite cast has been selected.

Smith Leads Name Parade; Kelly Runs Close Second

You don't have to grow a beard to be an average Loyola College student, but you do have to bear the name Smith. According to a count made by THE GREYHOUND, more Smiths roam the Evergreen campus than any other family name. In all there are nine. This figure does not include Monosmiths, Homosmiths, Blacksmiths or any departure from the norm.

Strangely enough, the Browns and the Joneses are represented by only a few in contrast with the Smith aggregation.

Plenty Of Irish

The Irish are in second place with six Kellys. There is a four way tie for third place honors. The clans of Miller, Anderson, Johnson and O'Connor each have five representatives at Evergreen.

Next in line for name honors are the Micks—McCormick and McDermott, that is. Both of these houses have four members attending Loyola's classes.

At Least Three Men

Ten family names are represented by three students. They are the

Dean Of Men Acts In Many Administrative Positions

Rev. Robert P. Arthur, S. J.

The Rev. Robert P. Arthur, S. J., Evergreen's Dean of Men and keeper of the cuts, is one of the few Jesuits to come from a Jesuit parish.

A native of Baltimore, from St. Ignatius' parish, Fr. Arthur attended Loyola Prep and Loyola High before entering the Society of Jesus in 1923. Later at Woodstock he received his AB and MA degrees. He was awarded his Ph.D. at the Gregorian University.

Prior to ordination, he taught at Georgetown Prep, also serving as moderator of Athletics and returned there as Headmaster after his ordination in 1936. In 1944, Fr. Arthur was transferred to Loyola and now serves on many executive and advisory positions in the school administration.

Fr. Arthur is a member of the Eastern College Association of College Deans and Advisors of Men and of the National Catholic Education Association.

In the future, he hopes to inaugurate an Alumni Block L Club which will hold social meetings about once a week at Evergreen. The club would be entertained by television, films of the sports events of Loyola and by smokers. Also in the planning stage is a four-game trip through the middle west with the basketball team next year.

A football team? "When college football ceases to be so commercialized and returns to the students, Loyola will have a team."

Pipes, Pipes, Pipes, Pipes . . .

Had any trouble parking your car lately? Taking long walks each morning from the car to class? Tripping over the hollow, cylindrical, metallic objects so steadfastly implanted on Ye Old Cold Spring Lane? So have 999 other Loyola students, and THE GREYHOUND decided to find out why. Unfortunately, The Evening Sun scooped our noble publication by a week but we briefly recount the cause of our woes for those non-newspaper readers within our midst.

The Consolidated Gas and Electric Company has graciously decided to better the gas supply in the locality and the pipes are gas pipes awaiting placement beneath the sidewalks of the nearby thoroughfare.

Gallagher To Write For College Paper

The student publication of the Maryland College for Women has chosen Francis X. Gallagher, Editor of THE GREYHOUND, to serve as a guest writer for the January issue of the paper. The principle basis for the choice was Gallagher's column entitled Evergreen Scenes which appears in each issue of THE GREYHOUND.

Gallagher has also been a consistent contributor to the Evergreen Quarterly. In the Fall issue of the Quarterly Gallagher wrote an article on John P. Kennedy called "The Gentleman from Maryland."
